TWO BIG LEAGUES MAY JOIN FORCES

Union of Citizens' League and People's Administrative League Will Be Considered Tuesday.

That there is a strong possibility of the recently organized Citizens' league and the People's Administrative league, Atlanta's most formidable political machines, consolidating and joining issues, was made apparent yesterday when Jesse Mercer, temporary president of the latter organization, issued a call for a meeting at the Ansley hotel next Wednesday.

It will be for the purpose of discussing the advisability of making both organizations one that the meeting has been called. The officers of the Citizens' league would not comment on the proposed amalgamation, but it is understood that in view of the fact that the objects of the People's Administration league are similar to the Citizens' league, there is a strong sentiment among the members of both to consolidate.

Not in Aldermanic Fight.

Secretary Archie Lee, of the Citizens league, issued a statement Saturday in which the league announces that it will not participate in the election of an alderman to succeed the late Alderman J. H. Maxwell, in the first ward nor will it throw its influence to any candidate in the contest for the chairmanship of the police board.

The statement is as follows:
"On account of rumors being circulated, the Citizens' League of Atlanta wishes to announce that it is handing off of the controversies over the selection of a chairman of the police commission and the naming of a first ward alderman to succeed the lamented

"The issues on which the divisionists have come in the police commission were established before this organization came into being, and, like it, the contest in council is one of personalities."

"We are not interested in, nor do we intend to have anything to do with, the personal fights of officials and politicians. Quietly, but effectively, the organization is consolidating the sane business element of the city for a contest of principles; and the already

"In the weeks to come we are confident that the personal differences that might hamper the cause will be dissipated. Sovereignty is with the people, and there is no doubt that a majority of the people of Atlanta and Fulton county are in sympathy with this cause. Through this organization the demand will be made at the polls for a reign of sanity and conservatism as opposed to fanaticism and hysteria.

"At least it has been realized in Atlanta that the indifference of the busi-

"There is nothing more important at the present moment than to register at the polls. The registration books for all counties and state elections close April 5, and this organization urges that all its members be certain to have their names recorded.

"We invite all in sympathy with the

Will Elect Officers.

Should the scheme for the consolidation of the two organizations prove futile, the People's Administrative league will proceed with the election of officers. It is understood that Jesse Mercer, former state game warden who has been actively engaged in the formation of the league, will be elected first president.

A statement issued by the league against the proposed consolidation is as follows:

The People's Administrative league has already secured a large membership of enthusiastic workers, who are determined to organize Atlanta on lines where the people will rule in a sane, liberal way, and if this be the purpose of the Citizens' league, as appears on the surface, there should be nothing in the way of a great re-

"together rally."

New Laces for the New Gowns

NEVER A MORE BEAUTIFUL

Spring and summer gowns show a lavish use of lace—some of them formed almost entirely of it.

Shadow and Chantilly lace flouncings for dancing frocks, for instance; forming the tier skirt and the ruffled skirt, or the new "spiral" effect that combines freedom of step with a slim appearance—and makes one wonder where the skirt begins or ends.

We have a wonderful display of Laces—all that is new and favored of fashion.

The Shadow Laces are beautiful of texture, design and color tone; very light, sheer, silk net with applique figures; white, cream, ecru, tango and black; allovers and flouncings.

The Correct Corset FOR The Correct Gown

No gown, no matter how handsome, or how beautifully made, can show off at its best, unless a correct corset is worn, a corset that is best adapted for the particular figure as well as a model that lends itself to the proper draping of the gown.

Any woman striving for fashionableness in her figure without sacrificing comfort, will find her ideal corset in the Grecian-Treco.

The New Silks Are At- tracting Great Attention

Silks for Spring. Silks for Easter. Silks for trousseaus. Silks for all and every occasion.

The Silk Section has taken on the bloom of spring. A bright and busy place it is, as lovely gowns are chosen and matched up with trimmings and all accessories for the modiste, by those who are irresistibly drawn here by the wealth of beauty of design and coloring and completeness of display.

A Great Advantage to You—is that after you have chosen the fabric and color you have the design for making. The Frenchiest and smartest designs imaginable for all costumes. They show how to cleverly and beautifully combine the materials.

Among the smartest of new silks are these Roman Stripe and Plaid Failles for combining with wool materials for dresses; flared ruffles and tunics of these rich silks are seen on wool and silk dresses; they are $1 and $3 yard.

Printed Pongees are also among the very popular silks; wistarias, reseda, Copenhagen, tan and navy the favored colors.

There are beautiful double-wide flowered crepes in light and dark shades at only 98c yard.

Canton Crepes in charming flowered effects with plain colors to match; all new shades, at $1.50 yard.

Taffetas, plain and changing, the latter in beautiful color-combinations which (chameleon-like) seem to take on a new color with every drape and fold. Taffetas at $1.25 to $2.50 yard.

The little lady with the embroidery hoop is wearing an exquisite French blouse in ladder crepe. The hand-tucked yoke is finished with one of the new collars.

Other novel features are the bands of Chinese embroidery on cote de cheval, dropped low over the shoulders, and the little tucked peplum below the soft satin butterfly girde. The French poster gives several decided hints of the coming fashions for Summer.

The lingerie frock shows the skirt of many flounces and deep black satin girde. The tiny coat of brilliant rust red silk is extremely flaring, and finished all around with a circular ruffle. The hat of white milan is very high and has a facing of black velvet and a single question mark plume of the red.

THE new French colors for Spring—roses red, echo blue and minaret yellow, are combined in a gorgeous piece of futurist silk, which fashions the blouse worn with a skirt of rust red. This blouse has a vest and cuffs of white fastened with small jet buttons.

The frock of echo blue chiffon taffeta is trimmed with a full rose ruching that comes only a few inches below the waist line in front and almost reaches the knees in back, tying the skirt in slightly. A narrow band of black velvet encircles the waist, finished at the left with a rust red rose. The bodice has the long shoulder line and draped armhole and a wide pierrot ruffle around neck.

UNDERWOOD SURE TO GO TO SENATE

Only a Question of the Size of His Majority Over Hobson—Candidates Crowd Stumps.

Montgomery, Ala., March 7.—(Special.)—It cannot be denied that the politics will be in the next thirty days. Putting it stronger, the politics will probably witness during the next thirty days the hottest political contest that has been waged in the state in many years.

The field of candidates is a large one and with but few exceptions there is more than one aspirant for every state and congressional office. William T. Peach, present state superintendent of education, by appointment, enjoys the unique distinction of being the only candidate for a long-term state office. The other two exceptions are Chief Justice John C. Anderson, of the supreme court, and Justice Lucien D. Chandler, of the same tribunal, both of whom are candidates to fill unexpired terms.

Every other office is contested. Four of Alabama's distinguished citizens are seeking the office of governor, three the office of lieutenant governor, why enumerate? Suffice it to say that the candidates are numerous and that the various campaigns are exciting every energy in their power to secure the nomination for the office they seek.

Senatorial Candidates. Five candidates are seeking senatorial honors, two to represent the first district and three the unexpired term of the late Senator Johnson. The latter race promises to be interesting, if not spectacular. There are two north Alabama candidates and one representing the middle or southern part of the state.

Regarding the race for the long term, there is little that can be said save that it has lost every feature of a contest. Oscar W. Underwood, door leader in the national house of representatives, is opposed by Captain R. F. Hobson. All speculation in regard to the race has to do with Underwood's probable majority, some estimates placing it as high as 40,000 votes. With the exception of the speculative interest which the popular democratic leader will amass, this race has ceased to excite comment. Underwood's victory was assured when he made his announcement for the office, and his developments have but served to impress the people throughout the state with the fact that his victory will be more than a foregone conclusion.

Race for Short Term. But the race for the short term will be vastly different, and it is probable if anyone will be able to predict with any degree of certainty the ultimate outcome before the eve of the primary.

THOS. W. HARDWICK OUT FOR THE SENATE

In His Announcement He Declares He's Not Swinging to the Coattails of Hoke Smith.

Washington, March 7.—(Special.)—Representative T. W. Hardwick gave out today his formal announcement for the United States senate.

After twelve years of service in the house, Mr. Hardwick has made up his mind voluntarily to retire from that body. If he falls in his aspiration to be a senator, he will retire to private life.

Mr. Hardwick's announcement is significant on the issue that both senators might not go to come from Atlanta. He will attempt to convince the voters that other things being equal, the candidate of another section of the state should be supported by them. He says, however, that he is not swinging to the coattails of Hoke Smith.

In conclusion, Mr. Hardwick professes to be a democrat, but insists he should come from the northwestern part of the state, and that he is not swinging to the coattails of any man.

Hardwick's Statement. Mr. Hardwick's statement follows: "I am a democrat, and I am a democrat in the sense that I believe in the principles of the democratic party. I am not swinging to the coattails of Hoke Smith, nor am I swinging to the coattails of any other man."

Governor's Contest. As the day of the primary approaches, the race for governor is becoming more and more interesting. The candidates are numerous, and the campaigns are exciting every energy in their power to secure the nomination for the office they seek.

Patronage Troubles BEGINNING FOR WEST. Valdosta Postmaster Will Prove Knotty Problem for New Senator.

PROHIBITION A FAILURE, SAYS CARDINAL GIBBONS

It Makes Hypocrites and Bad Whisky, Asserts Roman Catholic Prelate.

New Orleans, March 7.—"Prohibition never will be enforced in a Christian country," said James, Cardinal Gibbons in a statement made public here today. Cardinal Gibbons is paying his annual visit to his brother, John T.

"While I am an ardent advocate of temperance, I am intuitively persuaded that prohibition cannot be enforced in this country," continued Cardinal Gibbons. "It is calculated to make hypocrites and lead to the manufacture of illicit whisky, replacing the good material with the bad, while at the same time robbing the government of the legitimate tax."

Warner's Rust-Proof Corset

The Authoritative Corset Fashion

Comfort—every woman wishes to be fashionable, but she also longs to be comfortable. Women who once wear Warner's appreciate the feeling of comfortable support that Warner's scientifically designed corset gives.

Wear—yes, you want your corset to wear. You cannot be bothered by continually purchasing new corsets.

Every part of Warner's Corsets is made in our own factories. The quality is the best that can be made—from the "Security" Rubber Button Hose Supporters that will not tear the stocking, to the fabrics that cannot tear; and the thin double boning that cannot break, though you twist it around your finger.

Every Warner Corset, however extreme or light in texture, is so designed as to stand the wear of time. So confident are we of this, that

Every Pair Is Guaranteed

Various Models of Good Roads From Appian Way

Modern Sand-Lay Machine, Shown in Miniature

Washington, March 7.—(Special).—When the old Romans built roads, they built them to stay. Thus the famed Appian Way constructed in 312 B. C., by Appian Claudius still endures after twenty-two centuries of usage.

Modern highway engineers prefer to spread the mass of material which the Romans put into this highway, which extended 142 miles from Rome to Capua. Instead of building three or four feet thick they would construct a road with a depth of ten or twelve feet. The greater depth of paving on the Appian Way does not insure a smooth surface as many a traveler can testify.

In the model roads train exhibit which has been sent all over the south by the office of public roads of the United States department of agriculture, the various models of good roads from the Appian Way down to the sand-lay miniature road of the present day, are exhibited in miniature.

Strikingly beneficial results are said to have followed the exhibition of these miniature models of roads at county fairs, farmers' congresses and good roads conventions, along the routes of the Southern railway, the Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad. The value of the object lesson to the local authorities charged with road construction, and to the public, has been appreciable.

The Roman Method.

The Roman method of constructing roads was massive. During the reign of Augustus Caesar, when road building reached its height, the roads were made of 16 to 30 feet wide, and three or four feet deep, and laid in three or four courses. The foundation of these roads was invariably made of large flat stones or quarried stones laid on earth, except in swamps, when poles, logs, brush or even boards were utilized to support the stone course. The upper layers varied according to the available material and the period and importance of the road. Small stones, with or without mortar, gravel mixed with clay, broken brick, tiles, etc., and even earth was used for the second and third courses. The surface was made of well cut, irregular, but close fitting blocks on the more important roads. Usually, however, the wearers used coarse stones or pebbles, and in some cases, cobble stones, pavements.

There is shown herewith an illustration depicting the method by which the Romans built up their roads.

Section A shows the centuriation pavement, composed of lime and sand, straw, rushes or reeds, and sometimes laid on slabs or boards.

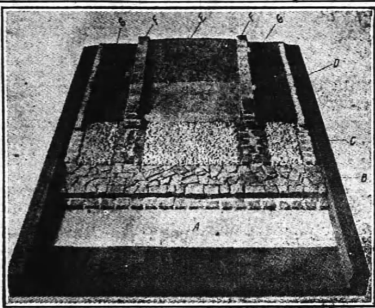

Section B shows the stratum, or foundation, composed of two courses of flat stones laid dry or in lime mortar. The depth of this course was from 16 to 18 inches.

Section C shows the rudus or rubble, composed of broken stones mixed with lime in the proportion of 1 part of lime to 2 parts of stone. Sometimes the material was taken from old buildings. This course was laid from 6 to 9 inches deep.

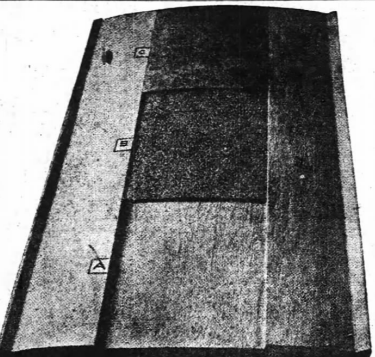

Section D represents the nucleus, composed of coarse gravel and lime mixed but, or bricks, potsherds or broken tiles mixed with lime and covered with a thin layer of lime mortar.

Section E shows the summa crusta or

The picture illustrates a properly constructed gravel road 16 feet wide, 18 inches thick at the center and 4 inches thick at the sides when rolled. The road is shown in three-fourths view to the foot. The road is graded for a width of 23 feet.

Section A represents an upgrade or foundation prepared as previously described. The depth of this course was from 16 to 18 inches.

Section B shows the first course of gravel, laid in a layer of 4 inches at the center and about 1 inch at the sides when rolled. Section C represents a second course after rolling. There is a layer of 2 inches in depth at the center and 1/2 inch at the sides. The crown or side slope of this road from center to sides is at the rate of one-fourth inch to the foot. In construction, blocks joined with the greatest tight. This course was about six inches deep and about sixteen feet wide.

Section F indicates the curb, which was two feet wide and eighteen inches high, with upping blocks. These blocks served as seats for travelers and as mounting blocks for riders.

Section G shows a side road, the surface of which was composed of gravel flushed with mortar. The width was from six to eight feet.

History of the Mac Adam Road.

For who speak familiarity of the Mac Adam road have any knowledge of the history of this form of construction. The macadamized road dates back to the days of John Loudon Mac

Adam, a Scotchman who lived from 1755 to 1836. He designed a road made of broken stones of uniform size, not exceeding one and one-half inches with a crowned earth foundation and thoroughly drained surface. He believed that a road should have a slight curve and that the broken stone, when spread on the road, should be continually rolled smooth until packed by passing traffic. This method of construction has been greatly modified in the present century, but the same is still given to roads of this character.

At present macadamized roads are built by laying a foundation of coarser stones, and placing the finer ones on top, stone screenings or sand being used as a binding material. The stone is crushed by machinery. This form of construction is very popular in many parts of Georgia, there being miles of macadamized roads around

Atlanta.

On the suburban roads the paved section is about 18 or 19 feet wide, 6 inches high in the center and 4 inches on the sides, to permit of perfect drainage.

In describing this type of road Logan

Walker Park, director of the office of public roads, says:

"In the construction of all types of roads or macadam roads it is necessary, in order to obtain the best results and to use surfacing material economically, to prepare the foundation or subgrade and shoulders of the road carefully. The subgrade should be brought approximately to the grade established for the road, and as much lower as the depth of the surfacing material to be used. It should then be compacted with a roller until it is hard and firm. If soft places develop during the rolling, they should be filled with good material and rolled again. This prevents the surfacing material from being pressed into the foundation and consequently less material is used.

"The shoulders are built up before the surfacing material is placed in position and serve not only to increase the width of the road, but as a side support to hold the surfacing material while it is being rolled. They also keep it from washing away into the side ditches."

Sand-Clay Roads.

Sand-clay roads, of which there are hundreds of miles in Georgia, constructed at an average cost of about $750 per mile, are approved by the government experts for localities where the traffic is light.

"Common clay roads may be vastly improved by a little judicious grading and systematic maintenance," says the report. "In many parts of the south

many of the common roads may be improved, for all purposes, by simply merely by the addition of sand or clay, and incorporating this with the surface. The department recommends that earth roads should have a width of at least 24 feet and that 24 to 36 feet would be better still. If the road is too narrow traffic in both directions

The picture illustrates construction of a sand-clay road 16 feet wide and 18 inches thick in the center and 4 inches thick at the sides when rolled. The road is shown in three-fourths view to the foot. The road is graded for a width of 23 feet.

Section A shows the old and unimproved road. Section B illustrates a section of earth road under improvement, together with a road machine or grader. The width of the section above is equivalent to about 20 feet of finished surface from ditch to ditch.

gravel surface. The width of the

An unusual treatment of two materials is worn by the central figure. This also has a peplum suggestion.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Athletic Growth at Auburn Typical of the Entire South

Americus, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—Thirty-two Cleveland players are in camp in Americus. Jimmie Sheekard and the Cleveland team will have two hard workouts today beneath a hot March sun. The boys will be allowed to rest all day Sunday, but will jump into harness again Monday and go to work in earnest.

The schedule of exhibition games will be announced before the week is over and the local fans will have a chance to see the big slug in action.

Jay Kirke, the outfielder that Atlanta tried to land last season, is the latest addition to the camp. Kirke has been laying winter ball in New Orleans since the close of last season, and is in good shape.

Candidates for the football team every year fall and during January and February each class, under the coaching of the head coach, played a round robin to battle for the class championship. Each class has from thirty to forty candidates out and the contests, in which the players play the first four matches. With such a base as this and with a continuity of system, Auburn has lost but one S. L. A. game in the last 10 years.

This game was lost to Georgia in 1912 when Auburn forced by the desire to get Vanderbilt on its schedule to play Georgia on Saturday, December 1, and Georgia the following Thursday. In fact for the past six years Auburn has been rated either first or second in the Southeast.

With nothing to mar the present prog-

This year is really a question of time when every college will indulge in this game as a form of exercise. Auburn has already played one game with Marion and two others are scheduled with the champions of the Alabama Football Association. Games may also be played with the champions of the Georgia Football Association.

Cross Country Running.

Cross country running is a form of track sport that is becoming very popular in Auburn. About three or four years ago Auburn had one of the best cross country teams in the state. The facilities has caused a lack of interest in this excellent branch of sport. With the number engaged in sports there is still a lack of interest in this sport.

Two wear-resisting Tires in One

The big, thick, tough rubber "Nobs" that prevent skidding, are made on a big, thick, extra strong additional strip.

Then this heavy strip is welded by hand and vulcanized on to an extra heavy, extra strong tire.

You have got to wear out the big, thick, tough "Nobs" of rubber before you even start to wear out the extra strong tire underneath.

Then comes the great big difference in the quantity and the quality of the rubber and of the fabric that is used in "Nobby Treads."

An unusually large amount of rubber and fabric is used in "Nobby Treads," and —only the very toughest and the best rubber, and —only the strongest, especially selected fabric.

Then don't forget this fact.

We're As Proud of This Captivating Display As You Will Be Pleased to Choose From It

One finds it a pleasure to choose from such an assemblage of fine suits. There are more suits, more models at each price, newer and more distinguished designs, smarter and snappier styles than women would expect to find, even in April.

—The smart, new short coats, with postillion basques, with draped belts, or with tassels; the tunic skirts, in a half score of styles; the new sleeves, the belted cuffs, the double collars, the fine gabardines, the men's wear-styles, the exquisite failles, the new poplin crepes and the waffle crepes; and the new color tones; all have their showing.

Silks Play a Prominent Part in Suit Styles

—There are all-silk suits of moirés, taffetas, crepes, failles and novelties. Chiffon taffetas combine with suits in wondrous ways. A wool suit has coat with taffeta sleeves and tunic. Other wool suits have ruffles of taffeta on coats or skirts. The entire showing is for you to see and to enjoy. If you wish a suit for your very own, you will find the prices very moderate.

Wool Suits $16.75 to $115.00. Silk Suits $29.50 to $157.50

Chiffon Taffeta Dresses at $29.50

We're specializing on silk dresses at $29.50, hence an unrivaled showing in plains, changeables and flowered patterns. Among the latter we show some exceptionally clever Pussy Willow taffeta dresses. Sizes and styles to please all. Choice, $29.50.

March Oriental Rug Sale Save a Fifth to a Third

THE "Dark Ages" are just disappearing from the commercial world. Selling Oriental Rugs without sham, evasion or quibbling is the work of the modern store. There is no difficulty in determining the market value of an Oriental Rug—the customs authorities have very clear standards of value-gauging, and the ad valorem duty is based on their knowledge. To be sure, a sentimental value attaches to rare specimens—but these must be rare from the museum standpoint, rather than from a commercial standpoint, to make the value unknowable.

Rugs vary in worth—vary for several reasons—and one buys this rug as fairly at several thousand dollars as one buys this more ordinary piece at ten or fifteen dollars. Gathered directly and valued anywhere near a true worth, there is no luxury as sensible as Oriental Rugs, for they outwear all other floor coverings, while adding elegance to the home.

Rugs worth $20 to $450 Now priced $14 to $365

Rich's Table Linens Tumble to Little Prices

—The reputation of Rich's table linens justifies the first price to which they are generally held. But a change in the tariff causes the manufacturer to drop these patterns, and we drop their prices accordingly.

—The linens come from one of the best manufacturers in Ireland. Grass bleached, perfectly woven of selected flax; every thread pure linen. Some twelve or more designs in bordered cloths.

$3.50 to $5 New Leather & Moire Bags at $2.98

EARLY in January an importer showed us similar bags that we would have had to sell at $4 to $5. Knowing merchandise, we put no money in Fashion's fads—we bought just one of each style. As constructive merchants we took those sample bags to one of our New York manufacturers. We conferred together, suggested certain improvements, placed quantity orders, and this

Fine Bag Value Results

Though the styles are the very newest staple and pannier shapes, we focused attention on the materials. The leathers are real seal, morocco and pin seal. The moirés are of exceptionally heavy silk. THE CONVICT QUESTION may be disgusting, but not half so much so as the young man that is making $100 or $150 per month, who starts out with $150 in his pocket to buy a 4-room or 5-room house, and his wife—poor thing—has to the cottage to tell him he's foolish, and that the proper thing to do is to get out in the suburbs and buy a cozy little BUNGALOW, be it two rooms or five rooms. I know some people who now live in 5-room houses whose first home was two rooms. The first deed is the hardest to get. I myself will bear witness to that fact. This ad. may be rather unkind, but the papers used the money, and you may need advice (I pay for this space where I use it or not)—so if you will take my advice and would like to live at LAKEWOOD HEIGHTS, drop in to see me. WHEAT WAS SOLD
ALL THE SESSION

Government Farm Reserve Report Came Too Late in Session to Aid the Bulls. Corn Off.

Chicago, March 7.—Unwarranted belief that the government figures on farm reserves would be much over the average had a good deal to do today with the decline in wheat. The market was steady at a net decline of 1 to 7 points. The market was steady at a net decline of 1 to 7 points.

The fact that heavy sellers, while others were buying, was the cause of the decline. The market was steady at a net decline of 1 to 7 points. The market was steady at a net decline of 1 to 7 points.

BRITON HARASSED BY MEXIC REBELS

Complaint Made to Washington About Villa's Treatment of English Ranchman.

Washington, March 7.—Another Briton has been troubled in the state of Chihuahua, and the state department again has been called on to extend its protection. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice called to the state department today to inform Secretary Bryan that an Englishman named Bryan had been driven away from his ranch and that his property was in danger. Secretary Bryan immediately telegraphed American Consul Lott at Chihuahua, asking for information. A report was made to the state department that the Englishman was being harassed by Mexican rebels.

Technical: The commission charged with investigating the situation in Chihuahua has been suspended. There now is little idea that the commission will be able to establish the principle of the right of the United States to protect its citizens in Mexico. It has been heard that the state department from General Lott is regarding his investigation.

No Answer to Harassment. There seems to be no present intention of returning any answer to the communication from General Lott protesting against the removal of the Englishman from his ranch. It is thought probable, does not care to risk the construction that a response would constitute a formal recognition of the situation in Chihuahua.

Consular Agent's Position. At Chihuahua, the consular agent, Mr. Bryan told to inform with confidential information in behalf of Lord Vane, who has been reported as having been driven away from his ranch. The American agent was directed to use every effort to establish the principle of the right of the United States to protect its citizens in Mexico.

Additional Interest. The situation was lent today to publication of details of a supposed treaty between the United States and Mexico, which, if ratified, would have authorized the United States to take possession of its own territory and security of its own citizens. The treaty was said to be a general guarantee of the same.

Warred of Further Harassment. Secretary Bryan today said that the state failed to further the treaty further. He said that the state failed to further the treaty further. He said that the state failed to further the treaty further.

HIGH POINT REACHED BY FOREIGN EXCHANGE. Mexico City, March 7.—The foreign exchange rate reached the highest point today of 25 cents for the dollar.

60 HUERTA SOLDIERS KILLED BY REBELS. Huertavilla, Texas, March 7.—Sixty Huerta soldiers, including six officers, were killed in a battle between the rebels and the Huerta forces in the state of Nuevo Leon.

TOBACCO MARKET FREE. New York, March 7.—The tobacco market was free today, with prices for the various grades of tobacco ranging from 10 to 15 cents per pound.

COLUMBIA AND RUTGERS BEATEN BY MIDSHIPMEN. Annapolis, Md., March 7.—Columbia and Rutgers were both beaten by the United States Naval Academy midshipmen in basketball games today.

Government Will Spend $1,000 to Collect $250, New York Banker Tells Credit Men of Atlanta

Left to right: H. S. Rossell, E. L. Adams, J. R. Salisbury, H. T. Moore, C. E. Meek, H. E. Choate.

The government must depend upon the honesty of the income taxpayer, said Charles E. Meek, a New York banker, at the breakfast given by the Atlanta Association of Credit Men to National Bankers at the Hotel Hamilton last night. Mr. Meek, who is president of the National Bankers' Association, said that the government must depend upon the honesty of the income taxpayer.

While the address of Mr. Meek was in the nature of a criticism of the government, it was not as scathing as far-reaching effect of the law. He said that the government must depend upon the honesty of the income taxpayer.
